FEATURES

Cradle to Cradle – Safe for People and the Planet

Revolutionary approach: waste = food. Figuratively as a raw material for high-quality new products, literally as a nutrient for nature.

European Ecolabel – Sustainable production process

The European Union's quality label for non-food products guarantees that production processes comply with the strict environmental norms set by the European Parliament.

Recycled material – Recovery of raw materials

Used materials such as recovered paper and recycled plastic can be used as an excellent raw material for new products. This is a concrete example of the circular economy.

Carbon neutral – Green energy

Production processes where green electricity and green gas are used do not produce carbon dioxide emissions and are therefore 100% carbon neutral.

All current product certification can be found in the product details on www.satinoblack.com
